Waterproof fabrics

These fabrics do not only offer the best protection against the sun but also against rain, providing that a declination of 30% is strictly adhered to. If this declination is not provided you have to choose permeable fabric to avoid water accumulation and to prevent damage of your sun sail construction.
Waterproof Fabric Options:

Furthermore the acrylic fabric is especially tear-resistant and also dirt and water-repellent thanks to its impregnation with a special protective agent. The reliable solution for long-term use outdoors.
